

2. Our story

What is your company's elevator pitch? What are the most important learnings from the past? What are you doing at the moment? Where are you going in the future? What are you doing at the moment? Where are you going in the future? Tell the story of your company by using the storyboard.

In the beginning..

This panel is titled 'In the beginning..' and contains two large, empty speech bubble outlines stacked vertically, intended for writing the company's initial story.

At the moment..

This panel is titled 'At the moment..' and contains two large, empty speech bubble outlines stacked vertically, intended for describing the company's current state.

In the future..

This panel is titled 'In the future..' and contains two large, empty speech bubble outlines stacked vertically, intended for outlining the company's future goals and vision.